Just Published,
FOR SALE BY R. GRAY,
A CELEBRATED ROMANCE ENTITLED ABAELLINO,
THE BRAVO OF VENICE.
Translated from the German, by M. G. Lewis, the well known author of the Castle Spectre, Monk, Adelgitha, &c. &c. Price, handsomely bound, one dollar—the English edition, sold at one dollar seventy five cents.
What black Musician conjures up this fiend?
Ha! do you tremble, are ye all afraid?
Why, I blame ye not, for ye are mortal,
And mortal eyes cannot endure the devil—
Avaunt, thou dreadful Minister of Hell.
RICHARD III.

In justice to this excellent Romance, we shall only remark, that the Grand Dramatic Piece, which for several seasons past drew crowded houses to our theatre, is founded on the same subject, as translated by Dunlap; and the acknowledged superiority of Lewis's writings or translations in the Romance style, place him so far superior to any other of our modern authors, leaves encomium unnecessary on the part of the publishers.

NOTE. Five editions of this Romance were sold in a very short time, after publication in London—it is dedicated to the Earl of Moira, by Lewis.

Land for Sale.
GREAT BARGAIN.

I will sell from about fifty to sixty acres of Land lying in this county, and binding upon the road now opening from Geo. Town to Alexandria. This land is elegantly situated in point of building scites, and has the further advantage of being furnished with delightful water, and from its high elevated situation the benefit of the most salubrious air. If necessary this property will be laid out in lots so as to suit those who may be inclined to purchase. Applications to be made to JOHN LUKE, Esq. or to

Charles Alexander,
(Son of Philip.)
Alexandria County, July 19. d

A GREAT BARGAIN.

THE subscriber wishing to remove to the western country, will sell the FARM on which he resides in Fairfax county, 11 miles from Alexandria, 9 from George Town ferry, and about the same from the Potomac bridge crossing to the city of Washington—in a healthy, agreeable neighborhood, containing about 470 acres, on which is a convenient dwelling house, large enough for a genteel family, together with all the outhouses suitable, all new or nearly so; an orchard of apple trees of selected fruit, together with different other fruit trees, a proportion of improved meadow for the scythe, and a large portion more may easily be made. Any person inclined to purchase may know the terms by application to Mr. JOHN DULIN, adjoining the said farm, or the subscriber on the premises.

PUBLIC AUCTION.

To be sold, at public auction, at Northumberland court house, in the county of Northumberland, and state of Virginia, on TUESDAY, the fifth day of September next, at eleven o'clock, in the forenoon,

Five contiguous Plantations, Amounting together to about 2700 Acres,
SITUATE on the river Potomac, and within about three miles of the court-house. These estates formerly belonged to Presley Thornton, Esq. and are the same on which he lived. They have never been seen by either of the subscribers; but it is understood, that about 1700 acres of them are as valuable low grounds as any on the river, and a considerable part thereof heavily timbered. The uplands consist of about 1000 acres, and the whole is well calculated for the production of corn, wheat, tobacco, timothy, and small grain of all kinds, in great abundance. The waters are said to abound with excellent fish, oysters, and wild fowl. The water carriage is easy and convenient to Norfolk, Baltimore, Alexandria, and the city of Washington; and as these estates possess several good mill seats, with an abundance of water, and a plentiful supply of timber, they must be very valuable.

The premises will be shewn to persons inclining to purchase, by Col. James Moore, who lives on them, or by Samuel Blackwell, Esq. who lives near to them; and the terms of payment may be known a sufficient time before the sale, by applying to either of them, or to the subscriber in the city of Philadelphia.

CORPORATION OF ALEXANDRIA.

AN ACT

Concerning Slaves, Free Negroes and Mulattoes, and for other purposes.

WHEREAS by the first section of an act of the Congress of the United States, passed on the twenty-seventh day of February, in the year one thousand eight hundred and one, entitled, "An act concerning the district of Columbia," it is declared that the laws of the State of Virginia as they then existed, shall be and continue in force in that part of the district of Columbia which was ceded by the said state to the U. States. And whereas several laws passed by the general assembly of the said state of Virginia previous to the said twenty seventh day of February, in the year one thousand eight hundred and one, concerning slaves, free negroes & mulattoes, were, on the said twenty-seventh day of February, in the year one thousand eight hundred and one, in force in the said state of Virginia.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Common Council of the town of Alexandria, That it shall be the duty of the mayor of the said town, and of each of the constables in the said town, to cause the said laws of Virginia to be strictly executed within the limits of the said town.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That the mayor shall require the said constables and it shall be their duty once in every three months to report to him the names of every free negro or mulatto residing within the limits of the corporation including in their said report the time when such negro or mulatto removed to the town, and from what place he or she last came, & whether such negro or mulatto hath any certificate of freedom, and to enable the said constables to perform the duty hereby assigned them the mayor is hereby required to cause the said lists to be taken by wards, & to assign to each constable his respective ward, which lists thus returned to the mayor he shall lay before the common council, which is to be kept safely by the clerk thereof, and upon such report being made as aforesaid by the said constables to the mayor, he is hereby required to cause without delay the said laws of Virginia to be strictly carried into execution against any free negro or mulatto who shall appear to him to come within the true meaning and intent of the said laws of Virginia.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, that every negro or mulatto now residing within the limits of the corporation and claiming a right to his or her freedom, shall file with the clerk of the common council an authentic copy of his or her certificate of freedom, within one month after the passing of this act, & every negro or mulatto claiming his or her freedom and who shall hereafter acquire in the manner herein after directed, a right to reside within the limits of the corporation shall file a like copy of his or her certificate with the clerk aforesaid within twenty days after obtaining such right of residence; and every negro or mulatto claiming his or her freedom, neglecting to file such copy of his or her certificate of freedom within the periods herein before stated, shall be treated by the mayor in the manner directed by the aforesaid laws of Virginia—and to enable the mayor duly to execute the aforesaid laws as to such negro or mulatto who shall neglect to file the copy of the certificate aforesaid, within the period aforesaid, with the clerk of the council, it shall be the duty of the clerk to return to the mayor once in every month, a list of the names of such negroes or mulattoes who may have left with him copies of their certificate.

Sec. 4. Be it further enacted, That any free negro or mulatto obtaining a licence in the manner by this act herein after directed under the seal of the corporation and filing an authentic copy with the clerk of the Common Council, shall, after obtaining and filing the same, be permitted to reside within the limits of the corporation so long as such free negro or mulatto shall behave and conduct himself in a quiet, honest and orderly manner to be judged of by the mayor, who shall cause such licence to be revoked upon such negro or mulatto being convicted before him of disorderly, riotous or dishonest conduct and practices, and upon such licence being revoked as aforesaid such negro or mulatto shall be treated in the same manner as if such licence had not been granted.

Sec. 5. Be it further enacted, That to enable any free negro or mulatto to obtain a licence of residence aforesaid, such negro or mulatto shall produce and lay before the Common Council authentic evidence of his or her right to freedom, also the affidavit of two credible white citizens of the town of Alexandria, or of two credible white citizens of any one of the United States whose characters are known to any member of the Common Council or to the mayor to be respectable, that they have known the applicant for at least twelve months previous to the date of such affidavit, and that during that period the said applicant hath behaved him or herself in an orderly and honest manner, and that he hath not known or heard, or hath reasonable cause to believe, that such applicant has been at any time guilty of any riotous, disorderly or dishonest conduct, or that the said applicant hath been obliged to leave his or her last place of residence in consequence of any disorderly, riotous or dishonest conduct.

Sec. 6. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the mayor to require the constables to return to him the names of such slaves as are permitted by their masters, mistresses or owners to go at large and trade as freemen within the limits of the corporation; and also to return to the mayor a list of such slave as shall be permitted by his master, owner, or employer, to go at large and hire him or herself out within the limits of the corporation, and the mayor, upon receiving such returns, shall without delay cause the laws passed by the general assembly of Virginia prohibiting slaves going at large and trading as free men or hiring themselves out to be duly executed—and every master, mistress, or owner, who shall permit his or her slaves to go at large and trade as a freeman within the limits of the corporation, or who shall permit his or her slave to go at large and hire him or herself out within the limits of the corporation shall forfeit and pay the sum of twenty dollars to the use of the corporation for each slave so trading or hiring him or herself out, to be recovered by warrant before the mayor, and if after such conviction such slave shall be found again going at large and trading, or again going at large and hiring him or herself out, the master or owner shall be again liable to the like penalty, to be recovered as aforesaid, and so often after conviction as such slave shall be found so going at large and trading or hiring him or herself out.

Sec. 7. Be it further enacted, That every free negro, mulatto, or slave, who shall be within the limits of the corporation engaged in playing at any game of cards or dice, whether for money or for any article or not, or other unlawful game, or who shall bet money or other article upon such game, or who shall be present as one of the company engaged in playing or betting, or in any way aiding or assisting at the same, such free negro, mulatto, or slave, upon conviction thereof before the mayor, shall forfeit and pay to the corporation, for each offence, if a free negro or mulatto, the sum of ten dollars, and if he is not able to pay the same, then he shall receive ten lashes on his or her bare back at the public whipping post, to be well laid on, or if a slave, he or she shall receive the like number of lashes, in like manner, unless his or her master, mistress, or employer will pay the aforesaid penalty of ten dollars.

Sec. 8. Be it further enacted, If any person shall be guilty of appearing publicly in the streets drunk, or of uttering in a loud and audible voice indecent and obscene expressions or words in the public streets, or be guilty of indecent and obscene gestures or actions, or of writing at any time upon the door or side of any house, or upon any wall or fence or railing or pailing any indecent or obscene word or words, or of drawing upon any door or side of any house, or upon any wall or fence or railing or pailing any indecent or obscene pictures, or of singing or repeating in a loud and audible voice any indecent or obscene song or songs, or of profane swearing, or of stripping himself naked in the day time on or at the docks or wharves, or shall, while naked, swim or wash in or near the said docks, or follow any ferry or other boat with passengers in the same, except for the purpose of self-preservation or of preserving any person, and being thereof convicted before the mayor, every such person, if a white person, shall forfeit and pay to the use of the corporation the sum of ten dollars for each offence, to be recovered by warrant before the mayor; and if a free negro or mulatto the sum of five dollars, to be recovered as aforesaid, and if such free negro or mulatto shall be unable to pay the said penalty, then he or she shall receive ten lashes at the public whipping post, well laid on his or her bare back, and if a slave, he shall for the like offence receive ten lashes at the public whipping post, to be well laid on his or her bare back, unless his or her master or mistress will pay down the said penalty of five dollars.

Sec. 9. Be it further enacted, That no free negro or mulatto or slave shall be allowed to attend any dance or other assembly for the purpose of amusement within the limits of the corporation under pain of forfeiting twenty dollars for every offence, to be recovered by warrant before the mayor for the use of the corporation, and if such free negro or mulatto shall be unable to pay the said penalty, then, in lieu thereof, to receive on his or her bare back twenty lashes at the public whipping post, and if a slave the like number of lashes, unless his or her master or owner will pay the sum of ten dollars for each offence— And no person or persons shall have any such assemblies within the limits of the corporation unless the person or persons intending to have such shall first obtain from the mayor a written permission, in which permission the mayor shall express the hour when the said assembly shall break up, a copy of which permission the mayor shall himself deliver to each constable and to the captain of the watch, who shall attend at the hour appointed by the said permit for the breaking up of such assembly and see that the same is dispersed; and no slave shall be permitted to attend any such assembly who shall not first receive a written permit from his or her master, owner or employer, and if any slave shall be found at any such assembly without such permit he or she shall receive ten lashes on his or her bare back at the public whipping post, well laid on, unless his or her master, owner or employer will pay the sum of five dollars—And if any white person or persons shall be at any such assembly as a member or members of any such company and a partaker or partakers of the amusement of such assembly, he or she shall each forfeit and pay the sum of twenty dollars to the use of the corporation, to be recovered by warrant before the mayor. And if any person shall hire, rent, or cause or procure to be hired or rented, his, her or their room or rooms, for the use of such assembly, or who shall be aiding and assisting in the same without such licence from the mayor as is herein before mentioned being first produced to him or her or them, such person or persons who shall hire, rent, or cause or procure to be hired or rented any room or rooms, or who shall aid or assist any such assembly, shall forfeit and pay the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by warrant before the mayor for the use of the corporation.

Sec. 10. WHEREAS the peace and quiet of the inhabitants of the town is frequently disturbed by collections of boys of all descriptions in the public streets for the purpose of playing the game called shinney or bandy, and other games alike dangerous, for the remedy whereof, Be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the constables to suppress all such collections of boys, and if upon being requested to disperse and discontinue their noise and games they fail to do so, the said constables shall apprehend them, and take them before the mayor, who if he from the evidence produced be satisfied of the guilt of any of them shall fine such guilty person or persons each in a sum not exceeding two dollars, and if the person so fined is unable to pay the same, his parent, master or mistress shall pay the same, to be levied by distress of his or her goods and chattles.

Sec. 11. Whereas, it is declared by the 32d section of an act passed by the general assembly of Virginia, on the 10th day of December, in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety two, who shall be deemed vagrants; and whereas, it is by the said law declared that the same shall be executed by the overseers of the poor and justices of the peace for the county in which such vagrants may be found. For the purpose of carrying the said law into full effect and execution within the limits of the corporation of Alexandria, Be it therefore further enacted, That the constables of the town of Alexandria, or any one of them, shall be and they are hereby empowered and required upon discovering any such vagrant or vagrants within the limits of the corporation, to give information thereof to the mayor, or to any justice of the peace for the county of Alexandria, and the mayor upon receiving such information is hereby required to issue his warrant for apprehending such vagrant or vagrants, to be brought before him, and if upon due examination it shall appear to the mayor that the person or persons are within the true description of a vagrant as herein before mentioned, he shall by warrant under his hand order such vagrant or vagrants to be employed in labor for any term not exceeding three months, and for that purpose he shall cause such vagrant or vagrants to be delivered over to one of the constables to be hired out for the best wages that can be procured, which wages after deducting the expenses of prosecution, shall be applied to the use of the poor house.

Sec. 12. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the constables of the town, to apprehend all negroes or mulattoes who they shall have probable cause to suspect to be runaways, & to take them before the mayor or one of the justices of the peace of the county of Alexandria, and the mayor shall if he hath probable cause to believe such negro or mulatto is a runaway by warrant commit him to the jail of the corporation or county of Alexandria, and as soon as he can ascertain where the owner of such runaway resides to cause the owner to be informed of the apprehension and commitment of such runaway.

Sec. 13. Be it further enacted, That the constables and captain of the watch for neglect of the duties by this act assigned them shall for each neglect, forfeit and pay to the use of the corporation the sum of ten dollars to be recovered by warrant before the mayor, and that all the penalties imposed by this act shall be prosecuted in the name of the common council of Alexandria.

Sec. 14. Be it further enacted, That no baker or other person, their servants or apprentices, shall offer for sale, or hawk, or peddle through the streets of the town at market hours, any cakes or confections in baskets or otherwise, without first having obtained a licence from the mayor for the same, which licence the mayor is authorized to grant on satisfactory proof appearing to him of the honesty and good demeanor of the person applying, and on his or her paying to the collector for the time being the sum of twenty dollars, which licence shall be annually renewed and may be revoked for misbehavior at the discretion of the mayor.

Sec. 15. Be it further enacted, That no person offering for sale, or hawking, or peddling through the streets after market hours any cakes or confectionary without a licence as aforesaid, shall forfeit and pay the sum of five dollars for every such offence, to be recovered by warrant before the mayor to the use of the corporation, which fine and costs shall be paid by the master or mistress of such servant or apprentice, and it shall be the duty of the constables to seize all cakes and confectionary with the basket in which the same are contained of all such persons hawking or peddling without such licence and convey the same to the poor house for the public expence.

Sec. 16. Be it further enacted, That if any person shall at any time disturb any religious society, by making riotous noise without the said house in which such society may be collected, and shall not disperse upon being required by any member of, or hearer in such society, such person or persons shall, if convicted thereof, forfeit the sum of five dollars, to be recovered by warrant before the mayor.

Sec. 17. Be it further enacted, That this act shall commence and be in force from and after the passing thereof.

Passed in common council the eighth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and nine.

HUGH SMITH,
President of the common council.

APPROVED, 9th August, 1809.

TWENTIETH BULLETIN

VIENNA, 20*th June,*

Within an hour after the news of the victory of Raab arrived at Buda, the Emperor and all those attached to the government left this city.

The army of the enemy was pursued on the 15th and 16th. It crossed the Raab by the bridge of Comorn.

The city of Raab is invested. We are masters of that important fortress. A few days. Considerable magazines have been found in the suburbs.

The superb entrenched camp at Comorn, which can contain 100,000 men was evacuated. The column which was intended to pursue it was unable to reach it; its retreat was precipitate.

A courier from Buda has been intercepted. His dispatches written in latin, explain the effect which the battle of Raab produced.

The enemy circulate false news through Hungary; this is part of the whole country; this is part of the system adopted to stir up the lower classes of the people.

Mr. Metternich left Vienna on the 16th. He is to be exchanged between Comorn and Buda, with Mr. Dodum and the other members of the French embassy.

Mr. D'Epinay, an orderly officer of his majesty, is arrived from Petersburg. He visited the head qurters of the Russian army. Prince Serge Galitzen entered Vienna on the 3d instant in three columns at the head of general Levis by Drohyezin, the second by Gotszakoff by Therespol, and the third by prince Suwarrow by Wlodzimirz.

TWENTY-FIRST BULLETIN

VIENNA, 22*d June,* 18

An aid-de-camp to prince Joseph Lubienowski is arrived from head-quarters with the army of the Grand Duchy. On the 16th of this month prince Serge Galitzin was at Lublin and his van-guard at Sandomir.

The enemy is pleased to spread epheme[illegible] bulletins, in which he every day [illegible] victory. According to his assertion [illegible] took 20,000 muskets and 2000 cuirasses [illegible] battle of Essling. He says that on the 21st and 22d he was master of the field of battle. He has even caused a print of the battle to be engraved and spread about, exhibited in it striding from one to the other, and his batteries crossing the island. The field of battle in every direction [illegible] also imagines a battle which he calls the battle of Kitsee (1) in which an immense number of Frenchmen are supposed to have been taken or killed. These puerilities [illegible] awked about by small columns of troops like that of Schill, are tactics employed for the purpose of destroying and ravaging the country.

Gen. Marziani, who was made prisoner in the battle of Raab, is arrived at the head quarters. He says that from the battle of the Piave, the archduke John had lost one third of his men; that he afterwards received recruits who nearly filled up the gaps, but who do not know how to make use of their muskets. He rates 12,000 men the loss of the archduke John and of the Palatine at the battle of Raab. According to the report of the Hungarian prisoners the archduke Palatine was the first in the battle to take flight.

Some persons have attempted to put in opposition the strength of the Austrian army at Essling, estimated at 90,000 men, with the 80,000 men who have been made prisoners since the opening of campaign; but they have shewn little reflection. The Austrian army took the field with 9 corps of 40,000 men each, and there were in the interval between the corps both returns and landwehr that Austria had really upwards of 400,000 men under arms. From the battle of Ratisbon until after the taking of Vienna, the insurrising Italy and Poland, we may reckon 100,000 prisoners from the enemy, and he lost 100,000 men in killed, deserters, &c. Thre must then have remained about 200,000 men more distributed as follows: The archduke John had at the battle of Raab 50,000 men. The principal army had, before the battle of Wagram 80,000 men. There remained 25,000 men to the archduke Ferdinand at Warsaw, and 25,000 men were disseminated in Tyrol, in Croatia, and spread as posts on the confines of Bohemia.

TWENTY-FIRST BULLETIN.

VIENNA, 22*d June*, 1809.

An aid-de-camp to prince Joseph Ponia towski is arrived from head-quarters of the army of the Grand Duchy. On the 10th of this month prince Serge Galitzin was to be at Lublin and his van-guard at Sandomir.

The enemy is pleased to spread epheme ral bulletins, in which he every day relates a victory. According to his assertion, he took 20,000 muskets and 2000 curasses at the battle of Essling. He says that on the 21st and 22d he was master of the field of battle. He has even caused a print of that battle to be engraved and spread about; he is exhibited in it striding from one to the o ther, and his batteries crossing the islands and the field of battle in every direction.—
He also imagines a battle which he calls the battle of Kusee (1) in which an immense number of Frenchmen are supposed to have been taken or killed. These puerilities, hawked about by small columns of land wehrs like that of Schill, are tactics employ ed for the purpose of destroying and rais ing the country.

Gen. Marziani, who was made prisoner at the battle of Raab, is arrived at the head quarters. He says that from the battle of the Piave, the archduke John had lost two thirds of his men; that he afterwards re ceived recruits who nearly filled up the rolls, but who do not know how to make use of their muskets. He rates 12,000 men the loss of the archduke John and of the Palatine at the battle of Raab. According to the report of the Hungarian prisoners, the archduke Palatine was the first in that battle to take flight.

Some persons have attempted to put in opposition the strength of the Austrian ar my at Essling, estimated at 90,000 men, with the 80,000 men who have been made pri soners since the opening of campaign; they have shewn little reflection. The Austrian army took the field with 9 corps of 40,000 men each, and there were in the interior of the corps both returns and landwehrs; so that Austria had really upwards of 400,000 men under arms. From the battle of A bensberg until after the taking of Vienna, comprising Italy and Poland, we may have taken 100,000 prisoners from the enemy, and he lost 100,000 men in killed, deserted or missing. Thre must then have remain ed 200,000 men more distributed as follows: The archduke John had at the bat tle of Raab 50,000 men. The principal Austrian army had, before the battle of Ess ling 90,000 men. There remained 25,000 men to the archduke Ferdinand at Warsaw, and 25,000 men were disseminated in the Tyrol, in Croatia, and spread as partisans over the confines of Bohemia.

(1) Kitsee is upon the right bank of the Danube, a league in the interior of the country.

The Austrian army at Essling consisted of the first corps commanded by gen. Belle, garde, the only one which had not fought and which was still entire, and of the wrecks of the 2d, the 3d, the 4th, the 5th and the 6th corps, which had been crushed in the preceding battles. If these corps had lost nothing and had been united such as they were at the commencement of the campaign, they would have formed 240,000 men. The enemy had no more than 90,000 men, thus we see how enormous are the losses which he had experienced.

When the archduke John took the field, his army consisted of the 8th and 9th corps, forming 80,000 men. At Raab it consisted of 50,000 men. Its loss would then have been 30,000 men. Ant in these 50,000 men were comprised 15,000 Hungarians of the insurrection. Its loss, therefore, was really of 45,000 men.

The archduke Ferdinand had entered Warsaw with the 7th corps forming 40,000 men. It is reduced to 25,000. Its loss is, therefore, of 15,000 men.

We see how these different calculations support and verify each other.

The viceroy beat at Raab 50,000 men with 30,000 Frenchmen.

At Essling 90,000 men were beaten and kept in check by 30,000 Frenchmen, who would have completely routed and destroyed them, had it not been for the event of bridges, which produced the want of ammunition.

The great efforts of Austria have been the result of the paper currency, and of the resolution which the Austrian government took to risk all. In the danger of bankruptcy which might have brought on a revolution, they preferred adding 500 millions to the mass of their paper currency, and to make a last effort to get it discounted by Germany, Italy and Poland. It is very probable that this reason had more influence than any other upon their determination.

Not a single French regiment has been drawn from Spain, except the imperial guards.

Gen. count Lauriston continues the siege of Raab with the greatest activity. The city has been already burning for 24 hours, and that army which gained at Essling so great a victory, that it took 20,000 muskets and 2000 cuirrasses; that army which, at the battle of Kitsee killed so many men and made so many prisoners, that army which, according to its apocryphal bulletins, obtained such great advantages at the battle of Raab, quietly sees its principal towns besieged and burned and Hungary inundated with parties, and makes the empress, its dicasters, all the valuable effects of his government be carried off to the frontiers of Turkey and to the farthest extremities of the empire.

An Austrian major took a fancy to cross the Danube in two boats, at the mouth of the Marsch. Gen. Gilly-Vieux went to meet him with a few companies, threw him into the water and took from him 40 prisoners.

MR. SNOWDEN,

Reading the news of the County of Warwick, England, I find the following:

"Lately at the quarter sessions of Warwick, a miscreant, named Tonks, was sentenced to be imprisoned three months, and publicly whipped, for ill treating a horse: a punishment that seems well calculated to check the offence in future. It is painful to reflect on the abuse and cruelty practised daily upon this useful, generous, and noble animal."

Should you deem the above extract worthy of insertion in your paper, it may peradventure, produce some mitigation of the cruelties daily exercised by some of their merciless drivers.

DIRECTIONS HOW TO USE

YARWOOD'S

Patent Washing Machine.

First fill the barrel half full of your finest cloths, than fill the bottom of the Reservoir with hot suds up to the side planks, turn the Crank backwards and forwards so as to make the cloaths fall the hardest against the sides of the barrel for abont twenty-five minutes, then use the same suds with a little more soap and hot water for the next finest cloaths, until the suds are unfit for use, then second your cloaths in the same way with boiling suds, after rubbing a little soap on the dirtiest parts of the cloaths; then rince them in the machine in warm or cold water.
